A Run for Life.

We remember hearing the following aned dote when a boy, and having perer seen it i print, will try our hand at writing it out. John Smith was a very industrious, hard working young man of twenty years. Being the eldest child and only son, he had alway remained at home assisting his father upon th farm. John was much respected; and many a bright eyed girl had secretly thought that she would like to change her name to Mrs John Smith. But John was no " lady's man, The fact was, that John Smith was very bashful. He would rather have potatoes all day, than undergo the ceremony of an introduction to a young lady. Not that John distiked the dear creatures-far from it; we believe that he, in common with all bashful but well meaning men, entertained that high respect and admiration for them. And this no doubt, was the principle cause of his bashlulness. felt that they were superior beings, and that tre be was unworthy to associate with them upon

Nancy Clark was the daughter of a very respeciable farmer, whose lands adjoined the Smitu farm. Nancy was a very pretty, saucy little witch, and she liked John Smith. When and around it he revolved with the enced of they were children, they attended the same school, and as he was only a few years her se vior, was usually her champion in the childish disputes that arose, and her companion in go ing and returning. At last John became so much of a young man as to be kept from school during the summer, and when winter came again, he found that Nancy led become a young woman, and did not ask him to take with her hand as they walked home from school, as from the tracks, he had performed another rethe had in years past. John discovered too, volution-" Call a man!" Away he flew that he had been growing in statue, and it scened as though he had been growing out of Nancy Clark was the first to recover her shape. As the novelists say, it was a lovely day in August. The Leavens were clear and serene and broutifut. The trees were faden with golden fruit, and the beautiful birds twittered AMERICAN their songs of lose in the branches.

John Smith's nigter bad a quilting that ofternoon; his father had gone to " Keith's Mill" to get some wheat ground, and John was left to repair some tools, to be ready on the morross to commence moving the meadow grass. The snake, evidently pleased with his rapid transportation, manifested his gratitude by attempting to enfold the legs of our hero within his embrace.

The next moment he was in full view of the girls, and as he turned by the corner of the barn, the make came round with a whiz, somewhat after the fashion of a coach whip.

Having reached the barnyard, to his dismay he found the bars up. But time was now too precious to be wasted in letting down bars ... THE POLICE OF THE CONVENTION .-- It is pleasant to see that the English press, irrespealive of party, receives with favour the plat. form thid down by the late Convention. The article which we copy to-day from the Leadon Atlas, a look established weekly paper, shows that the knowledge of Canadian affairs is increasing on the other side of the Atlantic, and foreshadows, we trust, a change of policy on the part of Colonial Office. We causet imagine that the next Governor General, whoever he may be, will be permitted to play the part of leading supporter on the ultra French Canadian party in the colony .--- Globe.

How Would he Voto ?

"I am not in favor of Pres Trede, nelther am I Protectionist."-Extract from Col. Erreford's speech Nomination Day. It is really smusing to trace the "bobbing" Colonel, from one question of state boing a farmer, and cays his "Interests pro identical with those of the Farmers of North York," - and yet on the very important question of trade and commerce, -one that materially affects overy rural constituency, he is " neither one thing nor the other"-complotoly astride the fence. Now, every farmer in North York knows perfectly well, that before we had Pree Trade in raw materials-the natural products of the soil, a tex of 26cts, per bushel was levied upon Canadian Wheat going to the American Market, and buyers deducted this 25cts. nccordingly. Well, the duty is now removed, and instead of fat officials, the farmers themsolves pocket this extra 25cts. per bushel, and as there were no less than 2,437,070 bushels exported to the U. States market during 1858, any person at all familiar with the subject must see that Canadian farmers were benefitted to the tune of over $600,-000-and yet Col. I ask your support us no opponent of the present administration, and us an advocate of the general policy entenciated by the Convention which assembled in this city on the alath November last. The great question of the day is the rottlement of the serious difficulties that have arisen in the working of the existing Le-gislative Union between Upper and Lower Canada. I am fully dire to the importance of this subject, and will heartily aid in every ef-fert to obtain a measure which shall do justice to the rightful claims of Upper Canada.

I am the carnest advocate of economy in every branch of the public service, and will streamously oppose the system of jobbery and competion, which has embspaire of late years prevalled in the se'ministration of public offsite.
